Scoville was received in a respectful and friendly manner. He tound no fault with the court, but claimed that public opinion had prejudged the case, and thought there was great danger of Guiteau being killed before the trial was over. At the close, resolutions were adopted in sympathy with the family of the prisoner and complimenting Scoville on the management of the case.

Ex-Senator Chaffee is strongly urged for this appointment, but the best in-formed opinion to day is that he has no chance. Filley's strong recommendations to President Arthur are his experience and ability as postmaster at St. Louis, his party services for many years as the principal organizer and manager of republican political affairs in Missouri, and his devo tion to Gen. Grant's interests in Chicago, where he was one of the members of the so-called "Old Guard" of 306 delegates who voted for Grant from first to last.

Waking the Wrong Man.

Bill Nye, in the Denver Tribune,

One night, at about half-past twelve, I judge, I heard some one step along to the window of my boudoir. Hearing it at that time of night, I reckoned that something crooked was going on, so I slid out of bed and got my great blood-searcher and liver-purifier, with the new style of center fire and cartridge ejector, calculating to shove a tonic into whoever it might be that was pienicking about my claim.

I looked out so as to get a good idea where I wanted to sink on him, and then I thought before I mangled him I'd ask if he had any choice about which part of his vitals he wanted to preserve, so I sings out to "Look out, below there, pard, for I'm going to call the meeting to order in a minute. Just throw up your hands, if you please, and make the grand hailing sign of distress, or I'll have to mutilate you. Just show me about where you'd like to have the fatal wound, and be spry about it, too, because I've got my brief costume on, and the evening air is

He didn't understand me, apparently, for a gurgling laugh welled up from below, and a party sang back:

"Hello, Fatty! is that you? Just lookin' to see if you'd fired yet. You know I was to come 'round and flag you if second seven was out. Well, 've been down to the old man's to see what's on the board. Three is two hours late, and four is reported on time. There's two sevens out, and two sections of nine. Skinny'll take out first seven, and Shorty'll pull her with 10?. It's you and me second seven, with Limber Jim on the front end, and Frenchy to hold down the caboose. First five is upside down in the washout this side of Ogalalla; and old what's his name that runs 258 got his crown sheet caved in and telescoped his headlight into New Jerusalem. You know the little Swede that used to run extra for Hotbox in the emigrant for a while? Well, he's firing on 258, and he's under two flats and a coal oil tank, with a beam across his coupler, and his system is more or less relaxed. He's gone to the sweet subsequently, too. Rest of the boys are more or less demoralized, and side-tracked for repairs. Now, you don't munkey around much, for if you don't loom up like six bits and go out on the track, the old man will give you a time check and the Oriental grand bounce. You hear the mellow thrill of my buzoo?"

Then I slowly uncorked the great blood purifier, and moving to the foot-lights where the silvery moonbeams could touch up my dazzling outlines, I said:

"Pardner, I am pleased and gratified to know you. I don't know the first dang busted thing you have said to me, but that is my mis fortune. I am a plain miner, and my home is in the digestive apparatus of the earth; but for professional melody of chin, you certainly take the cake. You also take the cake-basket and what cold pie there is left on the dump. My name is Woodtick Williams. I discovered the Feverish Hornet up on Slippery Ellum. I am proud to know you. Keep right on getting more and more familiar with vour profession, and by and by, when nobody can understand you, you will be promoted and respected, and you will at last be a sleeping-ear conductor, and revel in the highest mental calm and wide shoreless sea of intellectual stagnation the world ever saw. You will-"

the attack upon the coach night before last threw the city into the wildest excitement, and the grav-est apprehensions were felt, for Mayor Clum. As pefore stated, upon rece pt of the news a party started out about 3 a. m. to obtain some tidings o the missing mayor, among whom were Sheriff Behan and C. D. keppy. The sheriff and Mr. Reppy started first and arrived at Contention be tween 4 and 5 o'clock, where they learned from Mr. Dunham, of Philadelphia, who was on the stage the first particulars of the affair. The six-horse coach, driven by Jimmy Harrington and the bullion wagon, driven by "Whistling Dick," had just left Malcolm's water station which is the last house on the road to Contentior and only acout four miles from Tombstone, and were bowling along at a rapid gait, when the order to "Helt!" was given from the road-ide, and alnost simultaneously a volley was fired into them The off leader of the coach was struck in the neck, and all the horses became uuman sgeable. Dick was hit in the calf of the leg, receiving a painful feel wound, but kept his seat and his wagon right ide up. The horses ran about half a mile, when the wounded orse weakened and felt from loss of good. Mr. Clum, with the assistance of other passengers, cut the leaders loose, and on they ent, it being the general impression that all the oassengers were aboard. Mr. Clum had been rid ng on the inside, and he was missed, but it was supposed by his fellow-passengers that he had taken a seat on the outside, consequently his absence was not detected until the arrival of the coach at Contention. Upon learning this, Messrs. Behan and Reppy started for Tombs.one, and apon arriving at the place where the attack was nade, examined the locality carefully, but no trace of the missing man was found. In the meantime riving at Malcolm's Station, I a ned that two camsters in camp with their wagons at that point, had not only heard the noise of their shoot ng, but could distinctly see the flash, the attac having been made about the apex of the first rise beyond. Continuing down the road about a halfmile beyond the attacking point, by the light of a match, two large pools of blood were found on the right, where the off leader had given out, and after wandering several hundred rods to the right of the ro. d, marking his trail by his ebbing life, had already fallen a prey to the skulking coyote. Not being able to discover any trail, the party proceed ed on to Contention, where from Mr. Dunham it was learned that after assisting in releasing the wounded leader, it was supposed by the passen gers that Mr. Clum had either taken a seat with he driver or on the bullion wagon, while it was rationally presumed by the driver that he was an side, and his absence was not ascertained until criving at Contention Just after leaving Mr Dunham it was stated that Mr. C. had been heard of at the Grand Central mill, whither the party proceeded, and learned that the may or I ad taken the ore road to the mil, from wheree, after rest-ground, and all parties claim that there were from fifteen to twenty shots fired in quick succession.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the blad der, other accompanied by a slight amaning or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hae, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect care in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the gentto-urinary organs.

Office heurs 10 to 4 and 5 to 8. Sundays, from 10 to 11 a. m. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice $5. Call or address DR. SPINNEY & CO.,
